Risk assessment (RA) is a frequently used tool, used in blood donor selection and deferral. Reducing the number of blood components used in transfusion medicine leads to cost reduction. However, effective transfusion medicine does not only include transfusions, but also contributes to the donor safety. A proven VRA system can be used as an additional tool in blood donor selection to identify patients at risk for transfusion reactions. The aim of this study was to evaluate the value of the Risk Assessment (VRA) in predicting transfusion reactions. A prospective, observational study was performed between October 2016 and March 2017, at a tertiary referral center for transfusion medicine. Two-hundred thirty-eight patients admitted and receiving a blood component were included, of which 155 (64%) were transfused. Risk assessment was performed using the VRA in 105 patients (33 transfusions). Transfusion reactions occurred in 18 patients (17%). Sensitivity and specificity of VRA-assessment for transfusion reactions was: 95.6% (95% CI: 85.5%-98.4%) and 88.9% (95% CI: 76.8%-95.9%). The odds ratio was 16.9 (95% CI: 1.2-248.2) in favour of a positive VRA and 7.5 (95% CI: 0.7-72.8) in favour of a negative VRA. In our study, the

If there is no matching customer_id then the new record should be inserted. I have tried the following one but I'm not getting the correct output. select * from customer_info where id_customer = '122' : A: SELECT ci.* FROM customer_info ci WHERE ci.id_customer = 122 AND EXISTS (SELECT * FROM customer_info ci_x WHERE ci_x.id_customer = ci.id_customer AND ci.country_id = ci_x.country_id); Put the above into your trigger if that's what you're looking for.
