Geller was asked to speak at the white nationalist event after the Council on American Islamic Relations issued a stern, public warning against her speaking out against Muslims. ADVERTISEMENT In response, Geller remarked that CAIR is "intolerant of the legitimate criticism of Islam," which has resulted in the threat from CAIR that if she spoke at the event, she could be charged with criminal activity. A pro-Palestinian Muslim organization released a statement in May claiming Geller would call for an armed insurrection against Muslims in the United States, with its statement proclaiming her to be "a leading advocate of racism and hate in the United States." "The Council on American-Islamic Relations (CAIR) proudly calls for the return of hate toward the American government," the group said. "Pamela Geller's hate has been directed toward Americans of all colors and religions, but CAIR has singled out her vicious attacks on Islam and Muslims in particular. The promotion of anti-Muslim bigotry and the extermination of the innocent must be denounced by Americans of all colors and faiths." The pro-Palestinian organization issued the statement after a
