for lung cancer]. Lung cancer is the most common cause of cancer death in the world.

Since the discovery of first small molecule cytotoxic drug, cisplatin, clinical outcomes of lung cancer patients have been dramatically improved, and dramatic changes have been made to the treatment strategy. In the past three decades, the rate of survival of early stage lung cancer patients has increased. However, a subset of early stage lung cancer patients harboring epidermal growth factor receptor (EGFR) gene mutations in their tumors have been shown to derive significant survival benefit from targeted therapy with EGFR-tyrosine kinase inhibitors (EGFR-TKIs). This progress makes more evidence of personalized molecular-targeted therapy for lung cancer gradually translated into clinical practice.

Q: How do we know what kind of universe we are living in? I have read in various books that we only know what kind of universe we are living in because of the law of conservation of energy. But how is that possible? How do we know that all the matter and energy we know about behaves according to this law and not some other? I am a student, I know the universe is governed
