The case involves fake authors, infringing ads and secret Amazon payments. The Australian trade commission (Austrac) announced on November 30 that Kirralee Haroon Kaur had been charged with "offering for sale" fake reviews on Amazon.com, between 2012 and 2013. Prosecutors accuse Kaur, 28, of writing these reviews and deliberately misleading customers and Amazon.com about the veracity of her work. The case has been running for several months and its climax occurred on November 18. Prosecutors announced that Austrac had obtained evidence that Kaur had paid someone else to write these reviews in the first place. Kaur is accused of being associated with an overseas criminal syndicate. The syndicate was able to mask payments to Kaur through "a network of networked international suppliers of bogus reviews," the prosecutor said. She also faces three charges of promoting someone else's counterfeit or defective goods. Prosecutors say that Kaur "offered or promoted" counterfeit or "defective" goods on Amazon.com between October 29, 2012 and June 15, 2014. Kaur made more than 28,000 purchases on Amazon from June 2012 to June 2013, with 3,450 of them involving counterfeits or defects. The three charges related to these purchases will carry a maximum fine of $457,500. The other charges relate to operations conducted in 2009 and 2010. Kaur falsely classified her products
