Anna Anderson walks into the Henry B. Zimmerman Detective Agency. Detective Barney "Big Dan" Bonarski, his sidekick Victor "Knucksie" Smiley, and their friend and colleague Detective "Kid" Harold "Tween" Munsinger are idly hacking away at their typewriter. When a pretty young woman walks in, they are all greeted with a wave of their hands. Big Dan opens his mouth to say something, but is interrupted by Anna Anderson who says that she has come to apply for a job. She tells them that she is an accomplished woman of the stage and opera, and that she has offers from Broadway and Hollywood. Big Dan notices that the two detectives are not impressed and asks if she has a resume or could show it. Anna tells them that she has heard about the case of the missing Romanov girl and wants to help. Big Dan is intrigued, but Victor doesn't want to talk to the woman. He tells Big Dan that she is dumb, but he is mollified by the fact that she has money. Kid is also dismissive, while Tween starts to tell the story. It so happens that his friend Louis Brinkman was asked to look into the missing case. Louis was an ex-cop who was once a potential mobster, but failed to carry on after he was arrested for murder. He is now working at the detective agency. Tween starts to tell how Louis Brinkman reached the conclusion that the claim is not false. He tells the other detectives that there is nothing he won't do to get the case solved. Anna Anderson picks up her bag and says that she has plenty of money in her bag and she knows what's really going on. She tells the detectives that she would like to work for free but that it's not an option since she has a lot of money and she needs an honest living. Anna wants to know whether she is hired. They all tell her yes. Big Dan hands her a card, while Victor and Tween leave, chuckling. The next morning, Anna and her husband Murray start working at the agency. She has decided to work as a secretary during the day and perform at night. She is very productive. Big Dan gives her time to get familiar with the place, so the owner gives her a few suggestions. She shows Big Dan that she knows everything about the office, even down to the design and typefaces used. At night, Anna sings at the Bowery Theatre. She has a big audition on the next

. KIU - Unbreakable Kagac. Status: Slated for Update 9.15.5 in March of 2020. Actives : Month Month. RolePlaying Event: Rising of the Shieldwall - Release 19 Chronicle: Holgi Age History: Project Aura was born in the early days of the Rubble Moon, from the ashes of Makassare. At the time, it was the Greens and Red Wizards' aspirations to conquer and annihilate Inoya's only opposing force, the Vile Ward citizens. The greens took out a squad of Ufuk and brigands in the darkness, as Makassare's Shovelled Ones brought the first night's rain. The greens were met in return, and Ufuk put up an offensive defense, covered in masks and gorgets, but soaking wet before it even began. In the shadow of the night sky and the rain, Project Aura broke into the enemy camp. A young kagac cracked open the enemy's soldier's chest, just below the heart, and used the blood to make a quick sealant. Ufuk's heart, woken from a deep slumber, pulsed in an unseen way, and a warm current rose from the sealant, pulsing the blood puddles back and forth, and unlike the ocean, never drown. Caged in another's body, it could no longer go into the currents. It began to agree with the greater flow of the world. As night drew deeper, heat rose from the plant to cook the organs. Ufuk ran away in denial, crying and shaking. As he did, the sealant would crack and fizzle, and the organs would begin to cook. One by one, the Ufuk went limp, and the others, seeing what was happening, feigned relief and collapsed. They would be ushered out, for the chamber was made for twenty, so once Ufuk was given a seat, and his team was called out, the dome collapsed, and Rose Veil, Keeper of the Seals, sealed its entrance. As the rain softened and stopped, a small tornado touched the ground and pushed the chest up, and now the bloodstream and sea around the sealant. Immediately, the blood flow doubled and began to feel the ocean again, like being aboard the Ripples and embracing the sky. It felt so full and churning and powerful. Rose Veil
