Escape Rooms VR: Stories is also one of the first games available for HTC Vive's new Vive Tracker accessory, which allows for detailed room-scale play in VR. The gameplay is based in the fictional Southtown Laboratory — a high-security, top-secret location run by Dr. Walker. According to the lore you're brought to Southtown for some sort of "experimentation." However, the objective is to escape rather than the conclusion of the story, so this isn't necessarily a plot-heavy game. Your goal is to escape from the laboratory, get your tracking token, and make it to the exit. However, like most escape rooms there's lots of things you need to do to solve the puzzles in your chosen escape room, and each room has its own set of challenges for you to solve. So each puzzle you complete advances you through the game, and the story never jumps ahead. Challenges are broken into two categories, with Exploration being the first step to unlocking each room and solving the puzzles. Once you've found the items you need to get through Exploration, you need to use them to get through challenges and

What's new in The Coin Game:

It's different. You know how when you're 13, sometimes you don't understand a concept or a sentence until you're 15, or 22? Well, that's how it is with the gamer community. The game industry is full of new phrases and new terms that fall into a gamer's clutches, and if they're used properly, they can help a gamer to grow. I'll demonstrate a handful of them to you through the title I've named The Coin Game. It's an "As-You-Go" card game that will allow players to build more units by drawing multiple coins. Players will not have to wait for supplies to build units. It truly is a game that will build a house all on its own.

Game Overview The Coin Game is a cooperative card game for 2 to 5 players. It was created by Minor Biggs and developed by Redditor ChanceLu. The game has been trending in the top 500 most viewed games and has been on the minds of our staff since we announced it. Now I want to take the time to tell you how this card game came into being.

The Story So Far The idea was conceived by ChanceLu a Redditor who wanted to make something low-budget and fun out of the game. After brainstorming with minor and creating the premise, they came up with the concept of "Cards are in the building, your goal is to prevent the other players from rolling in the building." This concept made the job of designing and creating an entire game challenging. The aim was to create a game that was "simple yet fun" so ChanceLu began designing the cards.

The Deck When Minor picked up a deck of cards and shuffled, it was pretty clear to him that it was not going to work in the way he had conceived. He could have settled with using a regular deck, but instead he opted to use a 12-card deck. A 12-card deck, in this case, is a deck with four jokers. If a four-player is playing the game, they will play with a 12-card deck. The jokers are used as space control cards or can be used to flood out other players should the need arise. ChanceLu came with a new idea that's perfect for the game, the scoring system.

System Requirements For The Coin Game:

As of late, the version of the game I am developing (which will have quite a bit of content and is "very big") is now at 5.1 and I am also in the process of making the GBA files compatible with the eShop. I know it will work on GBA 2.2 and later, but as it is a lot of code that may not work at all on earlier systems. So I am still testing a lot and figuring out what will work. For a full list of system requirements, head to the downloads page. The
