So, now I am trying to show a dot at the center of each div when hover over it. But the problem is when I mouse over a div, the dot will stay even after mouse off because they are both using the same class name. So, what I need is show dot only if more than one dot when mouse over. In order to show only one dot when mouse over, I used `.divClass::after{content: ""};` But this code will show the dot even if there is only one dot. I need to show the dot only if there are more than two dots. So I am trying to use `.divClass::after{content:"... "};` But it
